Student House Leaders greeted Mr Persse and participated in some casual discussions and Q&A around their personal experiences at Avenues, their ideas about student life at Avenues for 2020 and beyond and their future goals.

The students proved excellent ambassadors for our College and exchanged essential information with the group.

Issues around capacity (student numbers) and future funding needed to improve learning facilities were highlighted. Our implementation of House Teams was a common element through which many of our visions around College culture and spirit may be realised.

Thankyou to all who were involved either directly in the tour and discussions afterward, and indirectly with making the grounds tidy and welcoming the group into your classrooms and our College.

Port Adelaide Aboriginal AFL Academy tour Melbourne

Loukas Fouten Jul 23, 2019 5:09PM

THE COLD concrete cauldron of the MCG is about as far away from the sandy plains of South Australia's far west coast as you can get, but for Yalata local Clifton Finlay it's starting to feel just as much home. Clifton, 18, was at the "home of football" on Saturday to be part of the Port Adelaide Aboriginal AFL Academy (AAA) side which formed the guard of honour before the Power took on Richmond.

It was part of the Academy's trip to Melbourne which included cultural experiences, a football game and the chance to experience travel to a bigger city. But by far the best part of the five-day trip for Clifton was walking onto the MCG.

"It was really exciting to come to Melbourne because I really enjoyed it last time," he told portadelaidefc.com.au as he waited to walk onto the hallowed turf.

"It's the second time here at the MCG for me and it is amazing here – just really big."

The 'G is 1700 kilometres from Clifton's home in Yalata, an Aboriginal community 200 kilometres west of Ceduna on the Great Australian Bight, in South Australia's far west.

Clifton now lives in Adelaide while he completes his schooling, returning home to Yalata on the holidays.

While he admits to not being a Port Adelaide supporter growing up, his involvement in the AAA has given him a soft spot for the Power.

The speedy winger was among the best when the AAA played off against Parkdale Secondary College in what has become an annual fixture during the academy's regular visit to Melbourne.

After a big win in 2018, the result went the other way this year with Parkdale securing victory.

The AAA boys came up with their own war cry and performed it before the game.

The AAA boys also conducted a cultural awareness session and smoking ceremony for staff at Energy Australia's Yallourn Generation Power site.

It was another highlight for Clifton.

"I like sharing my culture," he explained. "It helps me to learn more and embrace it more. I've always known a fair bit about my culture and I'm glad and honoured to know and now share this stuff."

The year 12 student from Wiltja Secondary School says the experience of being part of the AAA and working with Port Adelaide Aboriginal Programs Director Paul Vandenberg has been inspiring.

"Being in the academy has helped me to be a leader," Clifton said. "It has introduced me to new people and helped me make new friends. It has showed me how to learn and how to go out of my comfort zone in different environments so I'm really happy that I've been given the chance to have all of these experiences. I tell my brothers and sisters and my little cousins all the time about how good the academy is and what opportunities it has given me. I tell them what I learn and that they can do anything."

Clifton is now setting his sights on finishing his schooling and going to work in the community as an Anangu support worker.

The Aboriginal AFL Academy is a partnership between Power Community Limited, SAASTA, The Commonwealth Government, the University of Adelaide, Energy Australia and Herbalife.

FLO

A snapshot of some Avenues College
Flexible Learning Options – FLO
students' Learning

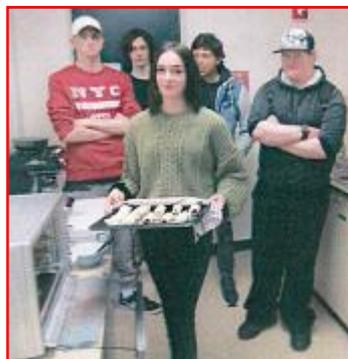

During this year a group of Avenues College FLO students carried out flexible learning options for their SACE at the NESPN CLC, MODBURY. Here is a snapshot of some of the students' learning through which they have built some positive relationships with peers and the wider community.

Jordan Rossidis successfully completed his Research Project and English. He engaged in Active Youth Program and GAME- Gaming, Anime, Mentoring and Engagement, an alternative learning program. Jordan worked with the Bean Buggie- a mobile coffee cart and continues to show management skills as he volunteers with operations, not only NESPN events, but in the wider community. In July this year, he was part of a team who served coffee for FLO Leaders at EDC, Hindmarsh. Currently, Jordan is moving toward successful completion of Cert III Business Studies at TAFE (Elizabeth) and Duke of Edinburgh (Gold).

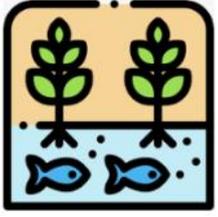

Sam Poulton-Kennison having completed his Maths, English and PLP has moved on to involve himself in two additional Integrated Learning programs at NESPN.

Aaron Squire has worked through his courses in Mathematics, English and GAME- Gaming, Anime, Mentoring and Engagement whilst partaking in Soul Good- a hands-on program which focuses on things that are "good for the soul". Aaron was awarded the NESPN CLC Cup Championship for 2019 at a recent NESPN celebratory event. Our congratulations go to Aaron.

AQUAPONICS

AVENUES COLLEGE DESIGN & TECH

Since last year, the Design and Technology faculty has been working hard to set up Aquaponics as a subject. This semester we have realised this and have had a Year 9 class working in and around the Aquaponics set up.

Under the banner of STEM, students have been creating solutions to some of the problems we have identified during the early stages of its implementation. The aim has been to provide students with a hands on approach to solving problems that involve Engineering, Electronics, Numeracy, Physics, Biology and basic Chemistry without them realising that informally these are the skills that they are developing.

The Aquaponics set up has 30 Golden Perch, 9 Goldfish, 34 Yabbies and works by using their excrement to fertilise the plants before returning the nutrient depleted water back to the fish tanks. The Plant growth is rapid due to the nutrient rich water from the fish and quite impressive considering the artificial light spectrum being used.

Year 9 students have been addressing problems associated with;

- PH and Ammonia levels through the testing of water and the collecting of data.
- Water levels within the system.
- Pest control.
- Air quality.
- Medium preparation.
- Planting and Pruning.
- Feeding. And the prototyping of solutions.

We are currently expanding our growing area by increasing our grow beds from 2 to 4 which students will help with. This will give them experience in Plumbing and Structure Building.

The Aquaponics is situated in the Design and Technology construction shed. Feel free to see one of the Design and Technology staff if you would like a tour of the facility.

YR 9 HOME ECONOMICS

During Semester 2, students within my Year 9 Home Economics class have been participating in the Great Ocean Road – Careers Made Here – Cheese Your Own Creation Programme. It has been a great opportunity for students to gain an understanding of the dairy industry, the nutritional value of its products, its importance to regional economies as well as the career opportunities that exist – all while having lots of fun in the kitchen.

The programme involves students working in small teams to design their own imaginative dairy creation to bring to life. The students then develop and make the recipe, and submit a photo of their creation to be judged alongside hundreds of other applicants from schools across Australia. From here, twelve lucky recipes will be selected for inclusion in the 2020 Great Ocean Road Calendar.

So far the students are having a lot of fun learning about all things dairy through the program and in week 5, the students whipped up a storm in the kitchen cooking their creations. I have been so impressed by the enthusiasm shown by students in creating their recipes and their willingness to have a go at cooking something out of their comfort zone. The students had a lot of success with their recipes, creating some very delicious meals.

Over the coming weeks, we will learn more about the dairy industry and will be putting together our calendar page submissions. On the 4th of November results will be released, and as a group we look forward to seeing whether any of our creations make it into the 2020 Great Ocean Road Calendar.

On Wednesday 22nd of August a number of our Year Two Students, under the guidance of teacher, Josh Haynes, courageously and wonderfully presented their performance piece at Wakakirri 2019. The children's story focussed on friendships and how strength can overcome challenges.

They have been working very diligently and tirelessly towards perfecting their performance which they finally got to showcase on the big stage at the Adelaide Entertainment Centre.

Families and staff came along to support our team and were all very impressed with their enthusiasm and endurance (It was a very long night!!).

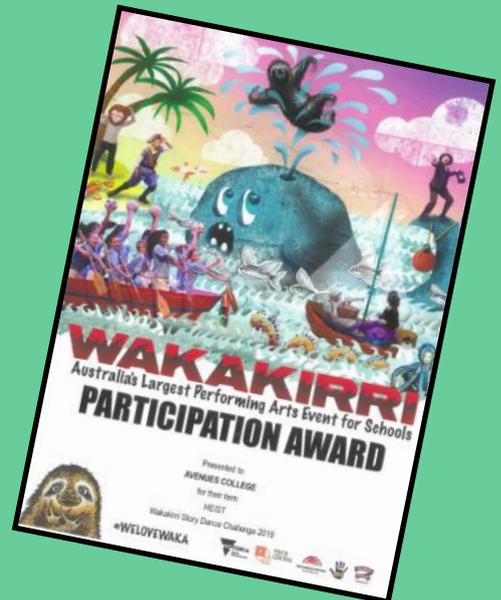

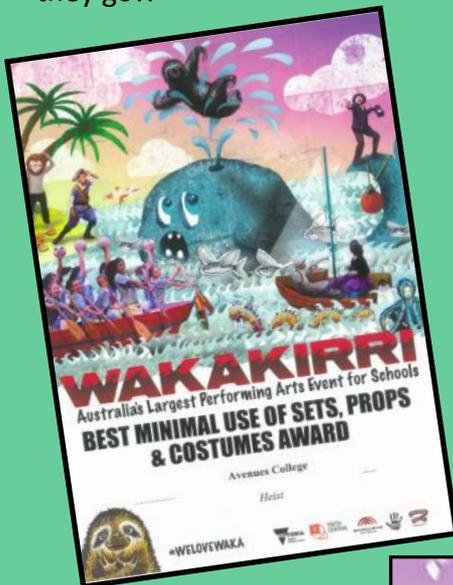

At the end of the night, Avenues College was awarded two awards for their efforts— a Participation Award and Best Minimal Use of Sets, Props and Costumes Award.

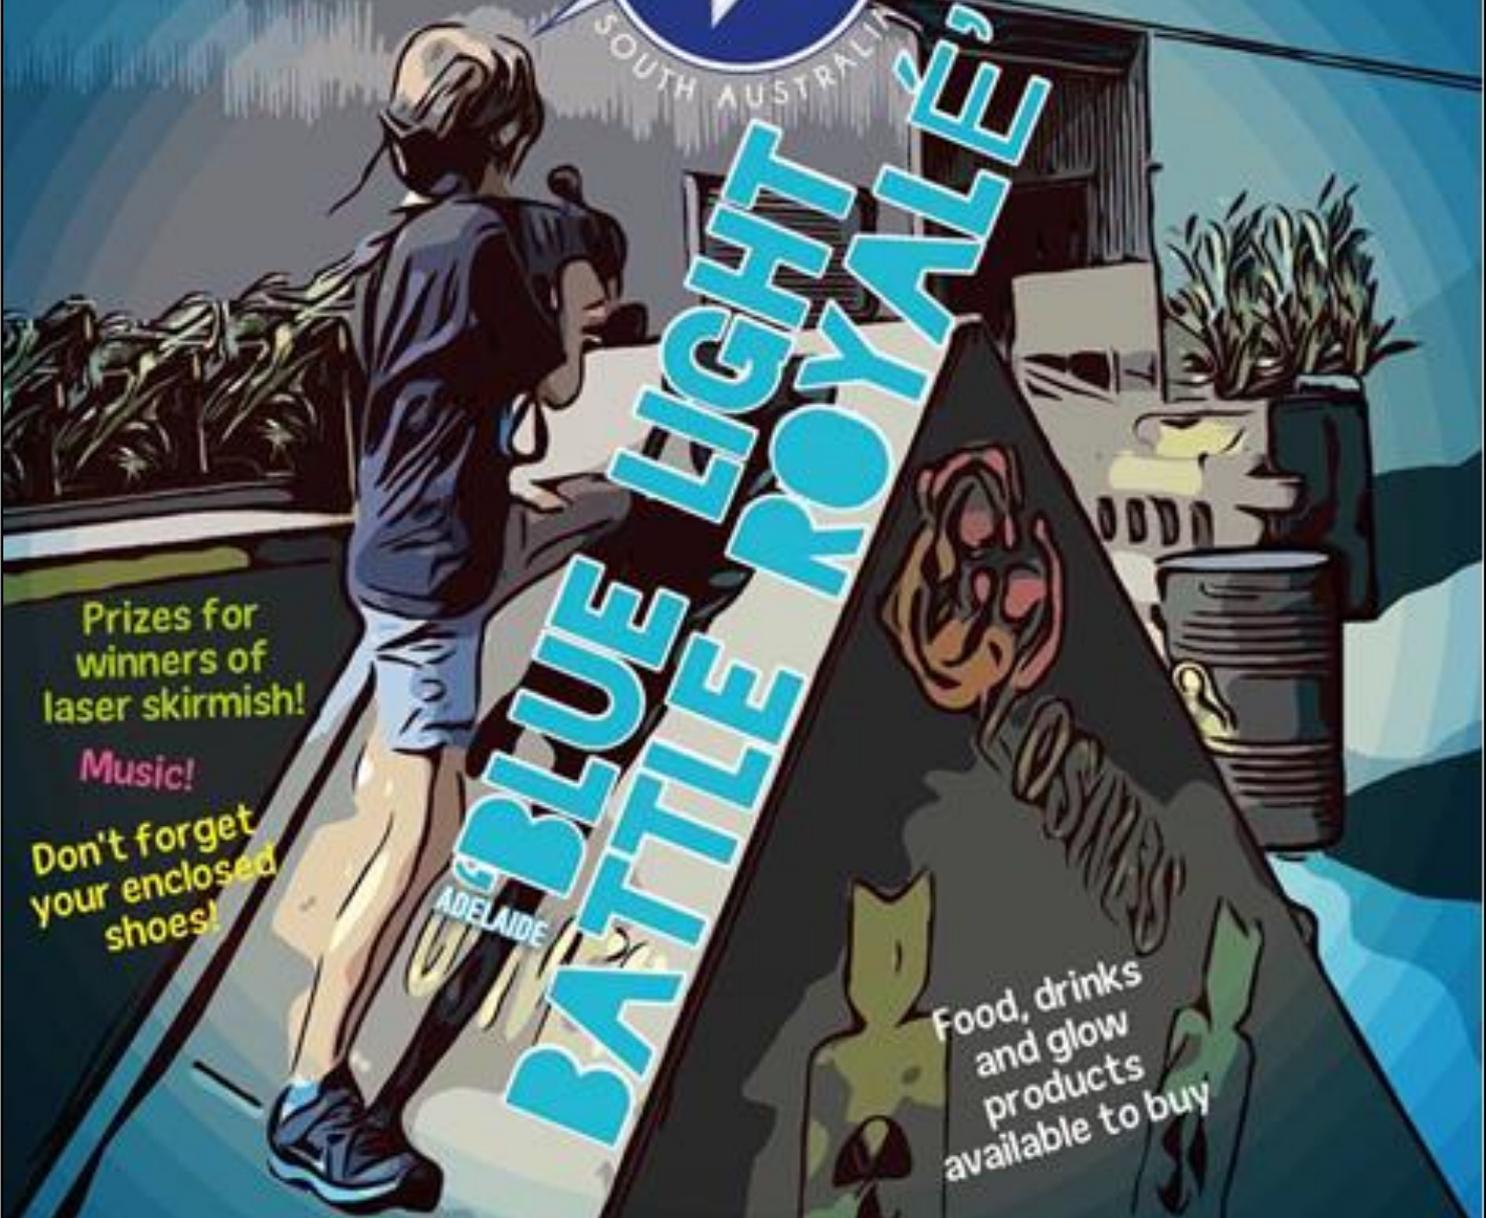

Well done to team Avenues and thankyou to all of the hard work and support behind the scenes.

Year 7 & 1/2

Earlier this term the year 7 class invited the 1/2 class down to play some math games. In the rouse of having fun, the students were learning to: count on, count back, add two numbers quickly and of course, have fun! The year 7's were great hosts and have vowed to have the younger students back for more learning and math games.

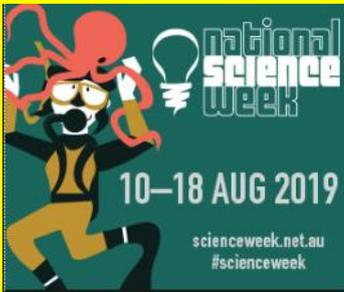

Year 7
Science

The year 7 students are once again lucky enough to be heading over to McKay Ave each week for their science lessons with Ms Hooper. This term we are looking at renewable and non-renewable materials. We have undertaken some activities around which soil type holds the most water and have hypothesized why we think this is the case. This week we ended our lesson by building some solar powered devices and seeing if we were able to make light, sound or wind using them. Sound won!

Science Week 2019

To celebrate Science Week students from years 9, 10, 11 and 12 attended the annual 'Science Alive' event at Wayville Showgrounds.

Students were able to explore the many exhibitions and participate in a number of activities. Virtual reality, native animals and the chemistry show seemed to be the favourites.

Every student enjoyed the day and am sure the students will look forward to going again next year.

AIR ROCKETS

The year 8's and 9's have enjoyed designing and constructing their own air rockets in class before launching them on the oval.

The classes competed against each other to see who could launch their rockets the furthest.

Mr Cock's class created rockets that flew the furthest but Mrs Hooper's class had the best looking rockets. The winners were awarded house points for their team.
